Visit the "Tree-Planting" Car at the Depot to-day

Local Happenings

If you have half an hour to spare, don't spend it with someone who hasn't.

Rev. Jas. Dorrian of Wiste, was a visitor in town on Saturday last, spending the afternoon with Rev. E. Davidge. Crop reports from that way are none to rosy.

Messes E. M. Gillam and N. S. Kirk paid a "hurry up" visit to Wainwright on Saturday last, returning Monday morning.

A regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Hotel on Monday evening last. A good attendance was present. Many subjects were discussed, chief amongst which were the matters pertaining to the Hospital, Telephones, Roads and Fire Equipment. It is indeed gratifying to know that through the efforts of the Board, the "Tree Planting" Car is to be in Monitor to-day. It is hoped that all who possibly can, will spare the time to learn some of this most vital matter.

It is a top-notch effort which you no happiness, there's something wrong either with you or your efforts. Sit down and do some analyzing.

The Canadian Forestry Association's "Tree Planting Car" specially equipped as a motion picture auditorium will arrive at Monitor on Thursday-Aug. 11th. The car is being sent through the West by the Association through the courtesy of the railway companies, and a group of prairie province subscribers who defray all the expenses. The one and only object is to encourage the planting of trees as windbreaks to prevent soil drifting, to moderate wind damage to standing crops, to help conserve moisture and to beautify the home surroundings.

Archibald Mitchell, the well-known western tree planting authority, will deliver lectures daily at 8 p.m. assisted by A.G. Couch of Ottawa, which will be illustrated by interesting motion pictures and stereoscopic views. All lectures will be held in the car which has been fitted out as a travelling theatre and carries its own electric generating plant and lighting system.

A hearty invitation is extended to every citizen to visit the Car, see the movies and hear Mr. Mitchell who will give a practical demonstration and explanation of what trees can do and have done in undulating crop waste, and how the planting of trees on the prairies will help to eliminate the "bad years." It is a unique event that is attracting country-wide attention.

Camping in Comfort

All the comforts of camping with none of the drawbacks of having to prepare meals, etc., can be enjoyed during a visit to one of the Canadian Pacific Camps located on Lake Wapta (Hector station near Lake Louise) or Lake Windermere B.C.

There appears to be some misapprehension as to these camps, for they do not consist of tents, but of log or rustic cabins for sleeping quarters, with a central Club house containing combination dining and living room and necessary kitchen facilities.

There is accommodation in each Camp for fifty people and the locations are ideal for anyone wishing to enjoy a quiet holiday in the great outdoors, where hiking, riding, fishing, boating, etc., can be indulged in to the heart's desire.

Mr. J. Taylor, of the Bank staff, returned from his holiday on Saturday evening last.

If you'd know the value of money—go and borrow some.

Miss Gertie Beamer is assisting in the Monitor Tea Room.

Some of the members of the Monitor Band were engaged to play for the dancing at Gooseberry Lake last Friday. Owing to the coolness of the weather the water sports staged for the day, were called off, and the entertainment was limited to baseball and dancing.

The cold spell experienced during the past week has proved most beneficial to the crops in this district.

Mrs. H.L. Crisp returned from her visit to Kerrobert last week.

Your Eyesight

Dr. Macklinburg, the Eye-sight specialist, will be in Monitor on Monday August 15th. Consult him if your eyes or glasses trouble you.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Barker, of Macklin, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. M. Barker, of town last week end. They were accompanied by Miss E. M. Barker sister of W. and M. Barker. Miss Barker has recently arrived from England, and will probably spend a couple of weeks in town.

G. Walker, of Winnipeg, Champion middle-weight wrestler of Canada, recently met defeat at the hands of an American wrestler "The Terrible Turk" and now the new champion has challenged our local wrestler "Babe" Ingersoll to combat. The bout, if it is arranged, will be held at Stettler, just prior to, or at the Fair. Babe is no mean wrestler himself, by the way. He holds the championship of the State of Iowa, and if a meeting is arranged between the 2 champs, there will be a bout that will well be worth seeing. Go to it Babe—we are all rooting for you.

Threshing Starts

Threshing commenced on the farm of R. A. N. Craig east of town last Monday. Rye. Although the stand was light, the yield is very good.

Local Happenings

The News, is in receipt of the following communication from Buffalo Lake:

On July 12 a marriage took place between C. Connah J.P. of Monitor and Elsie W. Teetzel of Consort at the brides residence Rev. W.S. Wickenden of Monitor officiated.

On July 21 the newly married couple and Shirley, Mary, and Teddie Teetzel left on a honeymoon trek in a "Prairie Schooner" to Buffalo and Hittern Lakes on to Edmonton where the bride has been appointed to the teaching staff. Latest reports point to a ripping time tenting time not withstanding the meeting of three very heavy storms at Coronation on Sunday night. Fleet on Monday night and Botha on Wednesday evening. Crops after passing Veteran were much poorer than in the Monitor district and got worse daily at Stettler the crops being almost burnt out. Buffalo Lake was reported as looking very gay and swimming, boating and fishing, all going strong.

New Potatoes were difficult to get past Veteran and crops generally mud more backward than at Monitor.

Elsewhere in this issue we are publishing a review in brief of the ball activities, together with photographs (?) of the different players. We had quite a time getting the different cuts assembled, and we hope that they will meet with the approval of all concerned. Incidentally, we trust it wasn't necessary to get "permission" to insert the various names in the paper.

The members of the Monitor Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Jas. Anderson, South-West of town, on Wednesday afternoon of last week for a social meeting. There were 20 ladies present and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. At the close of the business session refreshments "par excellence" were served by the Misses Anderson, after which the meeting dispersed having passed a unanimous vote of appreciation.

Importation Of German Goods

The agitation of importers of German goods against the provision proposed in his budget speech by Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, that Canadian Customs shall disregard any depreciation in foreign currency greater than 50 per cent, was commented on in a recent interview with the Senior British Trade Commissioner, Capt. E. J. Edwards, of Montreal, with the remark that the prevention of imports of German goods at ruinous prices appeared to be just the aim in putting forward this provision. The German goods being brought in are, moreover, largely goods which are also manufactured in Canada, such as drygoods, felts, silks, etc., not to mention other things, such as cutlery, manufactured in the United Kingdom.

"In allied and neutral countries the belief is general that German banks and other financial interests are artificially depressing their rate of exchange," said Capt. Edwards, "with the object of preventing imports into their country, and assisting them to build up their export trade again at the expense of the allies."

"It is contended by these importers that prevention of German imports will increase the depreciation of the Canadian dollar, by forcing more purchases from the States. Fifteen months ago German imports only totalled $2,502, but a year later, in February last, the figure jumped to $522,757. For the 11 months ending February, 1920, German imports (from Canadian Government figures totalled $29,648, but for the 11 months ending last February they had made another enormous jump, to $1,395,380. Despite the jump, these figures are still insignificant against Canadian trade with the Mother Country or the States, and I cannot see how Canadian currency will lose in value because German goods are prevented from being dumped at artificially low prices. Such goods as Canada must import can be obtained within the Empire to Canada's better financial advantage than from the States.

"It seems to me it is a question of the Canadian public supporting their own and British manufacturers against German ones," said Capt. Edwards, "and I have no doubt as to their preference." Sir Henry Drayton declared that to prevent financial ruin Canada must purchase more of her own and British manufactures, a statement I thoroughly endorse, and I am sure he did not think it any wiser to import German dumped goods than those of the United States. When Germany realizes the impossibility of exporting goods at sacrifice prices I believe she will quickly straighten out her financial methods, until her currency becomes normal and Canada, in common with other countries, can trade with her on a fair basis."

To Protect Livestock Trade

No Animal May Be Shipped out of Dominion Without a Certificate of Health.

The efforts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture to secure a clean bill of health for Canadian livestock have been unusually successful, it is asserted by officials of the department. No animal, alive or dead, and no product made from the carcass of an animal, may be shipped out of the Dominion without a certificate of the Health of Animals Branch of the Department of Agriculture. These certificates have to be shown and verified both at points of departure and arrival.

Many Agricultural Publications.

During 1920 the publications branch of the Department of Agriculture circulated 2,262,850 publications. This total was made up of 15,719 reports, 243,314 bulletins, 712,911 seasonable hints, 117,692 pamphlets, 168,155 circulars, 27,058 leaflets, 922,316 announcements and 64,745 agricultural gazettes, in addition to posters and mailing lists.

The Spirit of Adventure

Mysteries of the Unexplored Places Ever Beckon the Adventurers.

The bare catalogue of the hopes of the Shackleton expedition may well tempt high-spirited boys into running away to sea, and may turn old men into wistful youths. For what are scholarship examinations, or the counting-house, or even the comfortable armchair that they should not be as dust and ashes compared with the quest for petrified forests, lost islands and submerged continents? Are not whales and fur seals, unknown birds, the mystery of the Antarctic ice, and lone rocks to serve as wireless relays, better than the dull duties of office? But Sir Ernest has no vacancies; his old and tried companion have hurried to his call. There is nothing for us but to wish him good luck and to look forward to the joy of reading his stories.—London Times.

War To End Officially

Setting of Date Will Mean Much to Business.

The date for the official termination of the war, except as regards Turkey, will be September 1.

Under the "termination of the present war act" the war could not be declared officially ended for Great Britain until all the peace treaties had been ratified, but it has been decided that the treaty with Turkey might be ignored. The last of the other treaties, that with Hungary, was ratified in Paris recently.

The setting of the date for the official end of the war "will pave the way for the settlement of financial transactions outstanding between the Bank of England and the stock exchange and will mean much to certain lines of business."

Hiccup Epidemic Prevalent

Don't get the habit of hiccups—stop the slightest attack at the beginning. Nothing brings such magical relief as slowly sipping a few drops of Nervine in sweetened water. For stomach pains, bloating, cramps, diarrhoea, nothing will prove more useful in every home than a 35 cent bottle of good old Nervine.

Sciatica, say the medical scientists, may be caused by the habit of sitting perched on the edge of a chair.

Asthma's Victims Relieved. To overcome a severe case of asthma try Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Its splendid record is its highest recommendation. By relieving the air passages and restoring natural breathing it effectively aids Nature in combating this distressing and dangerous ailment. To many thousands of Asthma's apparently confirmed victims, the healing tones of Dr. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy have brought relief.

Tanlac Does Just What People Say It Will Do, Declares Calgary Man

"I will never miss a chance to say a good word for Tanlac, especially to my own comrades, many of whom I know are in the same condition I was in after I came out of the trenches," said A. Refr, 1507 Eleventh Street, West, Calgary, Alberta, agent for the Prudential Life Insurance Co., who served in France with the Twenty-Eighth Battalion of Regina.

"I came home from France suffering from stomach trouble, shattered nerves and with my blood in such bad shape my face was covered with pimples. I didn't have any appetite to speak of and I lost weight until I was almost as thin as a rail. What little I did eat would form gas that bloated me up till I suffered hours of misery.

"I was under treatment and constantly took medicine, but nothing reached my case except Tanlac. I am in tip-top condition to-day, with a big appetite, perfect digestion and nerves that are steady as steel. My blood has cleared up, too, and I am just brimful of life and energy. I feel fine. I am not surprised that people talk about Tanlac so much, for it does just what they say it will do."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

French-Canadian Settlers

French Farmers From New England States to Farm in the West.

Forty French-Canadian settlers, with their families, arrived in Winnipeg recently en route to farms in the Saskatchewan and Edmonton districts. They came from the industrial centres of New England States, to which they had migrated from Eastern Canada before the war. Most of them were farmers at one time, and they are repatriating to resume their former occupations.

Manitoba Beekeepers

Return of $1,500 In One Season From Thirty-three Hives.

The beekeeping industry is making rapid headway in Manitoba and the outlook for a large honey crop for this year is very bright. Beekeeping demonstrations are being held at different places in the provinces. In the Swan River Valley in Northern Manitoba, J. C. Dodge reports a return of $1,500 in honey in one season from thirty-three hives. A settler at Dominion City reports that from a stray swarm that came to his farm six years ago he now has seventy-six colonies and last year sold over two tons of honey at 35 cents a pound.

Among Our Exchanges

OH MAN!

A man's life is full of crosses and temptations. He comes into this world without his consent, and goes out against his will, and the trip between the two is exceedingly rocky. The rule of calisthenics is one of the most important features of the trip.

When he is little the big girls kiss him, and when he is big the little girls kiss him.

If he is poor he is a bad manager; if he is rich he is dishonest. If he needs credit, he can't get it; if he is prosperous everyone wants to do him a favor.

If he's in politics, its for pie; if he is out of politics, you can't place him, and he's no good for his country. If he doesn't give to charity, he's a stingy cuss; if he does, its for show.

If he is actively religious, he's a hypocrite; if he takes no interest in religion, he's a hardened sinner. If he shows affection he is a soft specimen; if he seems to care for no one, he is cold blooded. If he dies young, there was a great future before him; if he lives to an old age, he has missed his calling. The road is rocky, but man loves to travel it.

ONE GOT THROUGH

A young lady recently wrote to an upstate paper asking if there were any editors in Heaven. The editor replied: There is one editor in Heaven. How he got there is not positively known, but it is conjectured that he passed himself off for a minister and dropped in unsuspectingly. When the dodge was discovered, they searched the realms of felicity all their length and breadth for a lawyer to start ejection proceedings, but they couldn't find one, so, of course, the editor holds the fort.

Says the best friends: "You are making a regular hog of yourself"

"Lizzasso? Howcome?"

"Drinking so much whisky."

"Does a hog drink whisky?"

"Of course not"

"Then who's like the hog—you or I?"

Many a good man who condemns a sinner, secretly envies him.

A circus man died, leaving his property to his three sons, one half to one, one third to the second and one ninth to the third. It was found that all the property the father had left was seventeen elephants. To divide seventeen elephants by one-half or one-third or one-ninth was an impossibility so the probate judge said he happened to have an elephant himself which he would give to the estate, making them 18 elephants in all. So the division was made—the son who was willed one-half got 9, the son willed one third got 6, and the son willed one ninth got 2. 9 plus 6 plus 2 equal 17. So the judge got back his elephant, and each of the heirs went home satisfied.

But at length they rode over a quarter where McCrae turned, his horse and rode back again. Forward and back, forward and back, they rode the whole hundred and sixty acres, until not a rood of it had escaped their scrutiny. On the south-east corner a stream, in a ravine of some depth, cut off a triangle of a few acres extent. Otherwise it was prairie sod, almost level, with yellow clay lying at the badger holes. Down in the ravine, where they had been sheltered from fire, were red willows, choke-cherry bushes, and a few little poplars and birches; a winding pond marked the course of the stream, which was running in a considerable volume. Even as they stood on the banks a great cracking was heard, and huge blocks of ice rose to the surface of the pond. Some of these as they rose turned partly on their edges showing two smooth sides.

"Good!" exclaimed McCrae. "There's some depth of water there. That pond hasn't frozen solid, or the ice wouldn't come up like that. That means water all winter for stock, independent of your well—a mighty important consideration, which a lot of these land-grabbers don't seem to reckon on. Now there's a good quarter, Jack. I don't say it's the best there is; they'll be opening up new land that'll make your teeth water twenty-five years from now. But we can't explore the whole North-West, an' you're far enough from the railroad here. This coulee will give shelter for your stock in raw weather, an' there's a bench looks as though it was put there for your little honey. There's light timber to the north, fit for fuel an' building, within fifteen miles, an' there'll be neighbors here before the summer's over, or I'm no prophet. What do you say?"

"The quarter suits me," said Harris. "And the adjoining quarter is good stuff too. I can take pre-emption right on that. But there's just one thing I'm in doubt about."

"What's that?"

"How I'm going to square it with you for the service you have given. My cash is getting low, and—"

"Don't worry about that. I generally size up my customer an' him accordingly. If he has lots of money an' seems likely to part with it foolishly, I put as much of it as I can in safe keeping. But there isn't any money fee as far as you're concerned. Fact is, I kinda figure on trading this bill out with you."

"Trading it out? How?"

"Well, I expect to be roving this country, east an' west, for some years to come, an' I've a little policy of establishing depots here an' there—places where I can drop in for a square meal an' sleep an' a bit of Western hospitality. Places, too, if you like, where I can turn men to say a good word for Aleck McCrae. How's that suit you?"

Harris took his friend's hand in a warm grip. He rightly guessed that McCrae was not bartering his services for hospitality, but was making it easy for Harris to accept them by appearing to bargain for a service in return. So they shook hands together on the side of the bank overlooking the little coulee, and as they looked in each other's eyes Harris realized for the first time that McCrae was still a young man. A sense of comradeship came over him—a feeling that this man was more of a brother than a father. With admiring eyes he looked on McCrae's fine face, his broad shoulders, his wonderful physique, and the question he asked sprang from his lips before he could arrest it.

"Why don't you get married, Mac?"

"Who, me?" said McCrae, laughing; but Harris detected a tone in his voice that was not all happiness, and the thought came to him that McCrae's craving for hospitality might root deeper than he supposed.

"It's a long ride to the land office," continued McCrae, "an' you can't file a minute too soon. We'd better find a corner post an' make sure of the number of this section, an' put as much road behind us as we can tonight."

CHAPTER IV. Roughing It.

After filing at the land office Harris returned at once to the Arthurs' homestead. The news that the Harris was to be neighbors within forty miles was received with enthusiasm by both the old and the young. But Harris was now consumed ed with a burning energy; he allowed himself only a precious half-day at the home of the Arthurs, bade his wife an affectionate farewell, and, with a cheery good-bye to the warm friends on the homestead, he was away down the trail to Emerson. By this time the sleighing was gone, and as his wagon was left with the cat he rode one horse and led the other, carrying with him harness and such equipment as was absolutely necessary on the road. He expected some trouble from the streams, which were now breaking up in earnest, but he was determined that at all costs he would get his wagon, plough and tools to the homestead before the frost came out of the ground and left the sod trails absolutely impassable.

On arriving at Emerson one of the first men he met was Tom Morrison. The two pioneers shook hands warmly, and in a few words Harris told of having selected his claim, waving enthusiastically over the locality in which his lot was to be cast.

"I must get out there myself," said Morrison.

"Do," Harris urged. "There are some other fine quarters in the neighborhood, and nothing would be better than to have you on one of them."

"Well, we'll see. Now I've got your wagon loaded ready for the road, I couldn't get all your stuff on, but I intend what you'll want first, and the balance can come with the rest of the mine, so you won't have to make an extra trip. Ned has been back for some days, and we're ready to pull out for the river as soon as we like."

"The river is risin' real dangerous like, and if it keeps on this town's going to be under water before it knows it. Indeed, it wouldn't surprise me if the bridge went out. So we took the rest of the stuff—yours and mine—out of the shed on the road. It's in safe hands there, and we can get it later, even if the bridge does go. We thought we might as well do that while we wait for you."

"Waiting for me?" repeated Harris. "You don't mean to say you have stayed here just on my account?"

"Oh, no, you see, we wanted to get all the stuff out of danger."

But Harris read between the words that honest Tom had valued his interests equally with his own. The well-bound trip was made in good time, although not without difficulty at some points in the road, and before the 10th of April Harris was back under the shelter of Arthurs' roof. He was for pressing on alone in the morning, but he found that his wife had made all her plans to accompany him and would listen neither to persuasion nor reason.

"No, Jack," she said, gently but firmly, "I'll go with you. I'll be your eyes, and I'll be your ears. I'm going with you."

"But, Mary, there's no house, and no shelter, and no neighbors—nothing but sky and grass as far as you can see."

"All the more reason I should go," she answered. "If you have to rough it in the open you at least deserve your meals cooked for you, and such other help as a woman can give. We will take the cows—one of them is milking now; the calf will have to go in the wagon; but we'll have lots of milk, and I'm sure we'll get along. But I really must, John, and you know—I'm going."

So at last he consented. The supplies of provisions were increased; room for the calf was found somewhere in the wagon, and together they set out to wrestle their fortunes from the wilderness.

On arrival at the homestead the young wife immediately gave evidence that she intended to bear her full share of the pioneer's duties. A comparatively dry spot was found among the little poplars, and here she built a tent with blankets and a bit of rag carpet came in most handy for such purposes. Their stove was set up, and although it smoked stubbornly for lack of draught, it furnished for cooking, and when Jack returned from tethering the horses the smell of frying ham and hot tea struck his nostrils.

"Well, that's better than rustling for myself, I will admit," he said, as she placed his supper on an improvised table. "But it's mighty rough on you."

"No, it isn't either. I'm healthy—why, this prairie air gives me an appetite, that city people would pay thousands for, and I'm strong—and happy."

He drew her to him, thrilled with the pride of her courage.

That night, before the darkness had gathered too deep, they selected the site of their house on the very bench that McCrae had indicated. It was about an acre in extent, and stood half-way between the prairie level and the bottom of the coulee, where a small river was now running. They would face their house pond fifty yards from the door, and the bank behind would shelter it from the north-west winds of winter. It was quite dark when they sought the cover of their little tent, and the wolves were howling far down the ravine.

Presently they were startled by a crashing noise, as of some big animals rushing upon them through the poplars, and the horses, in headlong haste, almost swept over their sleeping-place. On recognizing their master the animals stood, snorting and shivering.

"That's how I should feel to be in the still hunter," said Harris, speaking calmly, although his own flesh was creeping just a little. "I suppose you've ripped their tender spots to pieces and will tie them down here, where they'll have company."

And he led them back a short distance into the bushes.

A moment later, suddenly, as if congealed out of thin air, on the bank right above them, silhouetted against the dim light in the west, stood a horse and rider. Instantly into Harris' mind came a warning of McCrae: "Sleep with one eye open when your horses are tethered out."

Harris had no proof that the strange rider was a horse thief, but it struck him at the moment that the terror of the horses might not have been due altogether to wolves. Sometimes these noble animals have an uncanny instinct for detecting danger.

He stole silently towards the tent. There was a gun there, loaded with shot for any possible game on the prairie. As he moved in the deep darkness of the valley he stumbled over a root and fell. The same moment came a flash of light on the bank, and Harris heard the "thunk" of a ball burying itself in the sod. He lay perfectly still. The stranger peered into the darkness for a full minute; then, dismounting, began to come cautiously down the hillside.

Harris would have rushed for his gun, but he feared to reveal the whereabouts of his wife. So he lay still, and the stranger came on, the glint of himself showing in the darkness. It was evident he thought his bullet had found its mark, and he proposed still to possess himself of the horses. But he changed his mind on chances. Presently he discerned Harris' body on the ground, and again raised his gun to his shoulder.

Harris lay in an agony of suspense, praying that the aim would be faulty, and that his assailant would advance until he could spring up and disarm him. Then came another flash, a loud report, a yell from the intruder, who half fell to earth, then scrambled to his feet, rushed up the bank, pulled himself somewhat limply on his horse, and rode into the darkness.

"Oh, Jack, are you killed?" cried the girl, rushing in his direction. "Not ever hurt," he answered; and she faintly in his arms.

Camera Used To Detect Forgery

Few people are aware that in detecting forgeries the camera plays a highly important part.

The photographic record, duly enlarged, shows the smallest inaccuracies—irregularities in the middle of letters, inequalities in the strokes, and a hundred and one other imperfections of the kind.

The best advice that can be given to those whose signatures are likely to be appended to important documents is that they should adopt a plain, straightforward style.

The down strokes should not be made too thick and the name should always be written in full. "J. Jones" is obviously easier to forge than "John Thomas Jones" or "John Jones."

And in signing a document that is likely to be questioned later on do so if possible when you are feeling "fit." Very few people realize the extent to which health is reflected in handwriting.

In one case two signatures, supposed to be by the same person, were so dissimilar that one was thought to be a clumsy attempt at forgery. Yet, as the expert was able to prove, both were written by the same man, the man when he was in perfect health and the other when he was ill.

The difference in the signatures nearly resulted in his losing property of considerable value.

New Strains of Fall Wheat.

J. W. Broach, a farmer at Boharm, Sask., has developed a strain of fall wheat which he claims will revolutionize the growing of fall wheat in Western Canada. He has experimented with the new strain for three years. The mature grain has a reddish appearance, similar to Marquis and gives promise of an exceptionally heavy yield from the 25 acres he has under crop this year.

Dr. J. D. Logan has opened offices in Halifax as a "clearing house" in Canada for the output of Canadian writers who prefer to live in Canada and market their wares from the homeland. It is hoped that the new organization will largely obviate the necessity of Canadian writers failing to find a domestic market going to England and the United States to market their literary material.

Divergence In Viewpoints Between France and Britain Over Question Of Silesia

London.—The French Government deems it impossible to decide on the holding of a meeting of the Allied Supreme Council until the question of sending reinforcements into Upper Silesia has been decided.

M. de St. Aulaire, the French ambassador here, called on Lord Curzon, the British foreign minister, and conveyed this information in the name of his Government. The French notification is regarded here to indicate a serious divergence in the viewpoints of the two countries. It is stated Lord Curzon merely took the note of M. de St. Aulaire's communication and informed him he would refer the matter to the British cabinet.

When France agreed to a meeting of the Supreme Council in Paris on Aug. 4, it was more or less understood French acquiescence depended either on the question of reinforcements being previously settled or upon its being made the first subject of the agenda of the Council. The communication of M. de St. Aulaire would appear to show that the British Government declines to yield on this point.

U. S. Reduces Army To 150,000 Men

Congress Refused Funds to Pay Greater Force.

Washington.—Reduction of the United States army to a peace-time strength of one hundred and fifty thousand men has been accomplished in accordance with the decision of Congress when it refused to appropriate funds for pay of a greater force after October 1. With the reduction, Secretary Weeks announces there would be a general redistribution of troops, practical abandonment of seven of the great war-time army cantonnements; placement of many organizations on the inactive list, and skeletonization of others into materially reduced strength.

Circassians Kill Turkish Governor

As a Result British Are Reinforcing Dardanelles Garrison.

Constantinople.—Circassian bandits appeared in Karaboghlu, on the Sea of Marmora, 35 miles east of Gallipoli, raided the town and killed the Turkish governor and commandant of the gendarmerie. A British detachment assisted the Turks in pursuing the bandits. As a result of this incident the British are reinforcing the Dardanelles garrison.

Britain Cancels Government Bonus.

London.—The chancellor of the exchequer announced that after September 30 no bonus will be paid to government employees in receipt of salaries over £2,000 a year. He also stated that there would be reduction of 5 per cent. on salaries above £500. He said that £500,000 will be saved by these economies.

Will Pay Loan Without Borrowing.

Ottawa.—Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, announced that the $15,000,000 due in New York on August 1 would be paid without any further government borrowing.

Turks Are Badly Defeated

Athens.—Information from all sources indicates that the resistance of the Turkish nationalists in Asia Minor is completely broken down, the Greek official news agency declares in a statement. The Turkish losses in killed, wounded and prisoners to date are estimated at 60,000. The Greeks, the statement says, are constantly pressing the Kemalists along the road to Angora. Along the route of their retreat the Turks set fire to stores of material which they were unable to take with them because of the rapidity of their flight.

Terrible Experience Of Mountain Climbers

Mrs. Stone Is Rescued After Undergoing Incredible Hardships.

Calgary.—The search party which discovered Mrs. Stone has forwarded meagre details of the accident to the Alpine Club in Banff.

Mrs. Stone, who is not much the worse for her terrible experience, reports that she and Dr. Stone were climbing Mount Eon and Dr. Stone in attempting to make a short cut started up Rock Chimney with Mrs. Stone following him. They were not roped together. About half way up the rock on which he was standing gave way, and he plunged over his head to his death on the cliff below.

Mrs. Stone attempted to go down to her husband and became marooned on a narrow ledge of rock about half way down, from which she was unable to move. She remained there for five days without food. The only water she had was from a small stream which trickled down the mountain side at noon when the snows above melted. When discovered Sunday night by a searching party she was in a weakened and exhausted condition but uninjured. A. O. Wheeler, president of the Alpine Club, went up to the camp on Marshall Creek, accompanied by a nurse from Banff.

Quebec Crop Is Fifty Per Cent. Less

Farmers Optimistic Although Drought Damaged Hay and Cereals.

Quebec.—"I still believe there is a decrease of at least 50 per cent. in the crop of the year," stated Hon. J. E. Caron, minister of agriculture, just returned from an automobile trip on the southern shore where he personally inspected the crop. "Not only hay but cereals are greatly damaged by drought. The potatoes look well and vegetables should be an average crop. I found the farmers were optimistic, however, and they are courageously taking means to meet the situation," Mr. Caron added. "Due to our advice, farmers will keep their dairy cattle and will use all the fodder available but it is hoped that the Federal Government will consent to grant a reduction in the freight rates to meet the requirements as the department of agriculture has received offers from the western provinces to send hay here if needed at a very reasonable price."

Rainmaker Has Scored

Hatfield Wins Rain Bet With Medicine Hat District.

Medicine Hat.—Rainmaker Charles M. Hatfield has won his bet with the Medicine Hat United Agricultural Association and he will be paid $8,000 for rain which has fallen in the district during the past three months.

Hatfield was to receive $8,000 if four inches of rain fell between May 1 and July 1. Up to Saturday last four and one quarter inches had been recorded and so Hatfield draws the maximum payment, which will be made him at the end of the month.

The association will hold a meeting to determine whether or not the contract shall be renewed for another year. Despite the outcome of the unusual contract which was made with the rainmaker, all are not convinced that Hatfield is entitled to take responsibility for the precipitation. It is pointed out that the rainfall did not come at the time it was most needed, and further that whenever the rain did come, it was general throughout the west.

Ingersoll, Ont.—A record in which the harvester, the miller and the baker figured, was established a few days ago at Thamesford, Ont. On Thursday, at 3 o'clock, wheat was standing in the field. Later in the day it was threshed, drawn to the gristmill at Thamesford and ground into flour. On Friday morning biscuits of excellent quality were made and placed on the table for dinner.

Auto Accident Wipes Out Family

Autoists Misled By Car Being On Wrong Track.

Cleveland.—Five persons were killed, four of them almost instantly, when a car on the Abbey Avenue viaduct and an automobile crashed head on. One family was wiped out when John M. Francyk, 40, a garage owner, his wife, 37, and their two children, were killed. Each of the dead sustained a fractured skull.

The cause of the accident according to the police, was the operation of a shuttle car east on a westbound track, the eastbound track being under repairs. The motorists were westbound and when they saw the street car on the westbound track they apparently thought it was travelling in the same direction as their automobile.

Courts Intervene In Military Execution

Say Sinn Feiners Should Have Been Tried By Court Martial.

Dublin.—An important judgment was delivered in the chancery division when the master of the rolls ordered a writ of habeas corpus, returnable against General Sir Neville Macready, commander of the British troops in Ireland; Maj.-Gen. Sir Edward Strickland, divisional commander, and others, in the case of John Egan, sentenced to death by a military court at Limerick in June for having ammunition in his possession.

In a long judgment the master of rolls has decided that Egan should have been tried by court martial under the Restoration of Order Act. The claim of the military authorities that the existence of the state of insurrection justified them in overriding legislation seemed to him to call for a new bill of rights. There were considerations more important than the temporary duration of an insurrection. Among them were the eternal principles of justice, which could not be violated with detriment to the interest and feeling of a civilized community.

Daughter of Bank President Admits Knowledge of Alleged Theft.

Chicago.—Vivian Spurgin, daughter of Warren F. Spurgin, missing president of the closed Michigan Avenue Trust Company, who, with her mother, returned to Chicago from Detroit, where they fled following Spurgin's disappearance, has admitted that she had knowledge that her father had taken more than $500,000 of the bank's money before he fled, it was announced by James E. McShane, assistant state attorney.

To Help Unemployed.

Toronto.—The board of control has passed a resolution moved by Mayor Church, that in view of the large amount of unemployment in the city instructions be given to the heads of departments to remove from the pay rolls those who are occupying dual positions or those occupying positions in the city's employ and receiving a pension at the same time.

Patronize your local merchant and thereby help to build up your home town and community.

Ottawa.—A cablegram received from the International Institute of Agriculture gives the following preliminary estimates of crop production for 1921, corresponding figures for last year being given in parentheses: Wheat—Spain, 143,140,000 bushels (138,606,000); Hungary, 41,887,000 bushels (29,139,000). The total production of these two countries, and including Belgium, Bulgaria, Finland, Alsace-Lorraine, Greece, Canada (243,720,000), United States, India, Japan, Algeria, Morocco, and Tunis, is 1,712,000,000 bushels. This year's total production is 87.6 per cent. of the two previous years.

Rye—Spain, 27,254,000 bushels (27,831,000); Hungary, 19,938,000 bushels (16,520,000). The total of these two countries, and including Bulgaria, Belgium, Finland, Alsace-Lorraine, Greece, Canada and the United States, 172,983,000 bushels (164,865,000).

Barley—Spain, 92,180,000 bushels (99,663,000). Japan, 89,287,000 bushels (92,140,000). The total production of barley for the same countries as wheat, but excluding Hungary and India, is 552,349,000 bushels (531,738,000).

Oats—Spain, 32,500,000 bushels (35,550,000). The total production, including Bulgaria, Finland, Alsace-Lorraine, Greece, Canada (330,790,700), United States, Algeria and Tunis, is 1,828,000,000 bushels (2,142,000,000).

The grand total for wheat, rye, barley and oats, taken together, is 4,255,000,000 bushels compared with 4,568,000,000 bushels last year, a decrease of 313,000,000 bushels.

Toronto Landlords Have New Graft

Charge $2.00 For Privilege of Viewing Prospective Homes.

Toronto.—That some landlords are asking prospective tenants the price of $2 for the privilege of looking at houses and apartments prior to renting them, is the complaint contained in a letters received by a local newspaper. A few days ago a man in the west end of the city asked a real estate agent whether he could take a look at a certain apartment. He was asked $2 admission fee.

"Will I get my money in case I do not take the place?" he asked.

"No," was the answer.

"But in case I like the looks of the apartment can I deduct $2 from the first month's rent?" he said next.

"I charge you the $2 to look at the place," said the agent. "It has nothing to do with the rent."

The indignant correspondent asks, "What will be the next indignity of profiteering be?"

Harvesters From B. C.

Vancouver.—British Columbia will send every able-bodied man who wants to go to the prairie harvest fields this year. It is expected that a great number will take advantage of the reduced fares.

The provincial employment bureau, however, announces that none will be earlier than August 13, on which date the first contingent will go forward on the regular eastbound trains from Vancouver, and daily thereafter until requirements are filled.

Russians Fire On German Boats.

Will Replace Obsolete Vessels With Battle Cruisers of Hood Type

Announcement Made That Policy Cannot Be Construed As A Challenge to Other Nations.

London.—Discussing the naval estimates in the House of Commons, Lieutenant-Colonel L. S. Amery, parliamentary secretary of the admiralty, announced that the four replacement ships the government proposed to build would be battle cruisers of the Hood type armed with 16 inch guns and designed to obviate the need of larger dockyards than at present exist. He declined to say how many guns they would carry on the ground that it was not customary to give such information in advance.

Contending that there was no element of challenge or provocation in this policy of replacing obsolete ships, Colonel Amery said it was simply a policy circumscribed within the narrowest limits and postponed to the very last date consistent with the empire's safety.

Alluding to the building programmes of the United States and Japan, Colonel Amery argued that the admiralty, by proposing the completion of only these four ships by 1926, was laying itself open to the charge of accepting the risk that the British navy would temporarily be inferior in strength to the navies of other powers, but the government was facing this risk in order to avoid any step tending to invite fresh competition on the eve of a conference for disarmament.

The object of the disarmament conference, Col. Amery said, was to further expansion of the navies of the three greatest naval powers, but as it was quite unlikely that the other powers participating in the conference would offer to scrap the ships already built or under construction, it was obvious that the building of these four ships, or even twice their number, could not in any way affect the problem before the conference.

Stockmen Want Assistance

Free Entry of Stock to United States Is Urged.

Calgary.—The present conditions of the livestock industry in Western Canada was the subject of an address by C. W. Peterson, president of the Farm and Ranch Review, at an emergency meeting of the Calgary Board of Trade. The speaker pointed out that every person in Canada had a vital interest in the development of a successful livestock industry; it was the basis and foundation of the entire agricultural structure, he declared.

Mr. Peterson urged that immediate diplomatic discussions should be opened with the United States in order to procure for Canada free entry for animals and animal products. Even an unlimited overseas market, he said, could not for a moment be compared with free access to the Chicago market, which could completely absorb all classes of livestock.

"We are facing an acute situation almost amounting to a panic," he said, "and immediate action is necessary to cope with it."

Rust and Saw Fly Harm Crops

Considerable Damage Has Been Done In Some Sections.

Ottawa, Ont.—Rust and the wheat stem saw fly have caused considerable damage in some sections of the western wheat fields, according to reports on crop conditions at the end of July. In some sections the anticipated yield has shrunk considerably owing to the hot dry weather, but at other points late rains have ensured a heavy yield. Crops will not be uniform, some sections having a bumper yield and others a disappointing one. Harvest is unprecedentedly early owing to the warm and, in some places, very dry weather during July.

Serious Fires in New Brunswick

Over One Hundred People Are Rendered Homeless by Conflagration.

St. John, N.B.—Over one hundred people have lost their homes and general property damage estimated to be over $3,000,000 has been caused by a series of big fires in various parts of New Brunswick during the past week. The fires nearly always burned themselves out because of the dryness of the buildings and the water shortage owing to the prolonged absence of rain.

Famine Condition in Russia

New York.—Russian horses, which numbered thirty-six million before the war, have practically disappeared, having been eaten by the famished population, it was revealed in Russian newspapers, published in Moscow and received here by the American relief administration.

Meat had grown so scarce, more than a month ago, that it rationed only to hospital patients. Classes in Moscow University were dismissed because they were too weak from hunger to continue their work, the papers said.

The Life of Ne-Gua-nan-I-sew

Such a handsome, good natured, bright young Cree Indian when he first traded with me in 1884 and we soon became fast friends and called one another Neshtow, meaning brother-in-law, an Indian term of endearment. He camped at my house a number of times and was the delight of my young children; in fact he always had an interested audience of old and young when telling Indian fables of the beginning of things, most of which I regret to say I have forgotten. How the loon received its handsome coat and power of diving, and the beaver was granted almost human powers of intelligence. In regard to the beaver it was a tradition amongst the Crees that at one time they were human beings but having offended the Great Spirit, loss of speech and the human form was taken away from them. Then there was a history for the bear, wolf and worst of all criminals amongst animals the dreaded wolverine who is the terror both of the white man and the Indian trapper.

Neshtow at this time, so he gradually informed me, was very much in love with a pretty Indian maiden called Tannis, a daughter of the South Wind, and on his visits to my trading store I could tell at once if the course of true love had been running smoothly or not, by his good spirits or the reverse. It appeared there was a rival named A-ke-apeas who, though a good deal older, was much better off in this world's goods, and consequently appealed more to the young girl's mother. His appearance, however, did not appeal to Miss Tannis at all, owing to the bursting of a gun his cheek bone had been broken which gave him a sinister expression, and further he was a dour natured Indian at the best of times, in fact a complete contrast to sunny tempered Neshtow.

Mrs. South-Wind, however, like many mothers, was anxious to see her pretty daughter make a good match so there was the opposition of the parents to contend with. Tannis, however, finally brought matters to a show-down by telling Neshtow if he was a man at all they must elope as she positively refused to consider marrying Broken Face as the rival was commonly called. He came in and told me the whole story and asked what I would do under the same circumstances. Why, take the girl of course, was my reply.

It was the height of the berry season and all the Indian women were busily engaged in picking and drying Saskatoon berries for winter use. The plan was arranged that Tannis was to steal away from her comrades and meet her sweetheart at a place selected, he to have two ponies there. Everything went off smoothly and some days afterwards the newly married couple paid me a visit. There was no wedding ceremony, my dear reader, as these were both Pagan Indians; simply living together made the bond quite as secure; in fact, very much more secure than many white weddings. Tannis made a very pretty bride and, in fact, they were a handsome couple, but as yet did not even own a home in the shape of a tepee, so they had simply spent their honeymoon-like our first parents in the open air of heaven. Neshtow finally appealed to me for some advances, notably sufficient duck to make a tepee, and then various other necessities. Thought my stock of trading supplies was very low at the time I could not refuse, and advanced them debt to a moderate extent, all of which eventually was repaid.

Time went on and in due course a baby arrived and this proved the means of reconciliation with the old folks who had missed their daughter extremely and could not help liking her husband (as everyone did) for his sunny bright ways. He was not a star hunter by any means but a most cheerful worker, and his little mate being very tidy it was a pleasure to visit and camp in their well-kept tepee. The little grandchild lived and thrived for a year or so and then died, much to the grief of all the relatives. The medicine man had used all his remedies for months without effect, and they finally brought the child to me, but my medical skill was not sufficient to diagnose the disease. No less than three children were born to this fine young couple in the next four or five years, all of whom lived and thrived for a few months or so, then faded and died. In vain were Pagan rattles and offerings to appease the Mutchi-Manitou (Evil Spirit) and the young parents became very sad and despondent, thinking they were under an evil spell.

With the last baby they lost I had them camp close to my house when the child was about six months old, and after much persuasion made the mother wean the babe and bring it up on cow's milk diluted and some other infants food which my wife had procured. Alas, it all led to the same result, and when they both came into me with their hair dishevelled, their faces blackened, and literally in sackcloth and ashes, my heart went out to them in great sympathy and we wept together.

It is one of the saddest things to live alone in the wilderness and to be unable to help in times of severe illness, when one realizes with the resources of civilization precious lives might be often saved. Not only when sympathizing with poor Neshtow, but when my own family needed better medical skill than I could give them I took a vow and it was this: That if ever a town grew up in the vicinity of my land there were two things I would try and get built as soon as possible. First, a church for the worship of the only true God, and then a hospital. I am thankful to say I have lived to see them both established.

Railway Wage Question

President Henda Opposed to Submitting Matter To Conciliation Board at Present.

Ottawa.—Claiming that the time is not opportune for the submission of the question of wage reductions, as affecting the employees of Canadian railways, to a board of conciliation, President D. B. Hanna, of the Canadian National Railways, has notified the Minister of Labor that the management of the National line cannot agree to invoking the Industrial Disputes Act for that purpose. Mr. Hanna has pointed out that the agreement which the men have been asked to concur in is only tentative and is subject to revision. He suggests that if the usual meetings and conferences consequent upon permanent schedule adjustment, fail to bring an agreement on the question, it might then be necessary to resort to some form of arbitration.

Starving Peasants

Going To Moscow

Hunger Stricken People Setting Fire To Homes.

London.—The hunger stricken people in the famine districts of Russia are setting fire to their villages before deserting them for other parts of Russia. Many villages are said to be in flames.

It is also reported that great preparations are being made to deal with the masses of peasants now moving toward Moscow. Many trenches have been dug about the city, and much war material, including field guns, installed.

Telegrams received at Helsingfors reports the Petrograd garrison has mutinied again.

Start Aerial Mail in Australia

Will Give Regular Service to Places Otherwise Inaccessible.

Melbourne.—The Federal Government has accepted the $25,000 tender submitted by Major Brearley, for a weekly aerial mail service between Geraldton and Derby, covering a 1,200 mile stretch of wild country. This is the first official aerial post service in Australia, will start at the beginning of October, and will give a regular mail service to settlements impossible to reach otherwise.

Greeks Get Warning

Advance on Turkish Capital Will Not Be Tolerated.

London.—The Allies have warned Greece that an advance on Constantinople by her troops, which are now engaged in war with Turkish Nationalists, will not be tolerated, it was authoritatively stated here.

Great Britain, it was declared, is maintaining strict neutrality between Turkey and Greece.

Italian-Canadian Steamship Service.

New York.—Shipping circles here have been informed that the Navigazione Generale Italiana Line has directed part of its ships into a new Italian-Canadian service. This is said to be the first Italian line which has been established between Italy and Canada. The reason attributed for the move is that Italian navigation lines between the United States and Italy are having great difficulty in finding business for their liners at the present time, due to the enactment of the present United States immigration law.

Caruso Leaves Fortune.

London.—Mrs. Caruso will proceed to the United States to look after her husband's estate, according to a Rome dispatch to the London Times, later returning to Naples to make her home there.

Caruso, according to estimates in the newspaper, left a fortune of about $6,000,000. At the normal value of the lire this would represent about the sum of $6,000,000.

Bush Fires Clear Settler's Land

Made Work of Removing Brush Moderately Easy.

Calcutt, Ont.—According to a settler along the main line of the Canadian National a few miles west of Cochrane, the recent bush fires there were not altogether an evil. The conflagration, while destroying his buildings and hay crop, made the work of clearing an easy proposition.

"At present prices the cost of clearing one acre of green bush runs close to $200, but after the fire, when the trees had been felled and killed, I cleared up two and a half acres for $20. Generally speaking, a good bush allows the settler in moderate circumstances to go ahead and remove the bush, whereas it would be impossible to do so without a fire," the settler said.

Sweden Wants Canadian Wheat.

Vancouver.—That Sweden is beginning to take an interest in Canadian wheat exports was evidenced in a letter enquiring into the possibilities of Sweden importing wheat from Canada, from Emanuel Colleen, broker, of Stockholm, received by the Vancouver Board of Trade.

May Reduce Freight Rates

Montreal.—That the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada will in the near future take steps to reduce the freight rates on Canadian railways, was the announcement contained in a letter received by the local board of trade from Hon. F. B. Carvell, the chief commissioner.

The Montreal Board of Trade recently addressed a resolution to the railway commission asking a reduction on railway freight rates commensurate with the 12 per cent. cut in wages now in effect.

Monitor Baseball Club.

Eastern Central Alberta Baseball League.

15 wins. 1 Loss. 2 to 12 play(?)

Mr. Clarence Purdy

The above snapshot shows Mr Purdy's determined air when going to bat. Clarence hasnt played very much this year, but when he has, has made his presence not only heard but felt. He also has played different positions, so it was pretty hard to get a photo of his in action on his own grounds. We hink the above the most life like, and have therefore inserted it. Clarence says he is anxiously waiting for next season to commence so that he could get going again.

The Pitching Staff

Messrs. Glover, Kirk, and Saske.

This arduous position has been filled in first class style by the above named members of the Club. During the season Mr. Glover, who commenced the season in the box, has left us, and we believe is now in Kerobert. The good work has been continued by Kirk and Saske, who have covered themselves with glory. In passing, though, we might mention that Mr. Glover pitched the only no hit no run game in the league, for the whole season. A noteworthy performance.

The Right Field

Mr. Albert Baxter

Friends, meet Mr. A. Baxter of Pemukan. He is the man who was told he was "Too old to play" and the same day pitched his team to victory. Ab has filled different positions on the team, and seemed to fill all of them without much apparent difficulty. His careful coaching has done much to bring home the runs when most needed, and although living a considerable distance from town, has ever been willing to come in and play the old game.

The Catcher

Mr. Pat Stewart.

It is almost unnecessary for us to comment on the splendid playing throughout the season, of our catcher. He has been a holy terror to those ambitious players who have tried to steal base on him and has kept a vigilant eye on all parts of the field. Of course there have been times when signals have been crossed, but taken on the whole the battery has come through without a hitch.

The Short Stop

Mr. Thos. Watson

No mistaking him, is there? See the life-like expression the perfectly natural position. We were indeed fortunate to get this snap. Tommy was the terror of all batters who aspired to an infield drive anywhere near him. He was sure death on anything that came his way. His unfortunate illness at the beginning of the season took a little of his pep, but his form remained as good as ever.

The First Base

Mr. V. Sonquist

Well, heres our first baseman. It took us quite a while to get his photo. No, folks, he didnt really have a basket on his hand, he just wore the regular mitt, but it served the same purpose as a basket, for there were not many balls that got past him. Rookie sometimes played a little behind the bat, and his steady consistent playing has done much to bring the team its high position.

The Centre Field

Mr. E.M. Gillam

Of course, there is no mistaking the above photograph for any one else but Gilly, although we were unfortunate enough to miss getting his face in focus. The truth is he was going so fast after an outfield fly, that we were lucky to get a snap at all. It made no difference what kind of weather he was playing in—he always got under the ball, and it got so that when the batters saw the ball going in his direction, they just turned back to the bench without bothering to try and run it out.

Mr. Frank McGirr

Yessir, we flatter ourselves that this picture is perhaps the most life-like of the whole bunch. Frank has been the heavy litter of the team, and it seemed that the only way to save a home run was to "walk" Frank. This picture shows Frank in the act of being "Walk-ed". As you will note, it doesnt seem to bother him any—at the time this picture was taken Frank was getting quite used to it. He Held down the positions of Left field and sometimes 1 st. base.

The Second Base

Mr. Nick Saske.

Owing to the fact that Nick never stayed long in the same place, we found it impossible to get a picture of him fielding his bag. However, after several tries we got a snap of him just as he had stolen second, and the above chrono shows his safe arrival. Nick's sure and snappy playing throughout the season was always a feature of the game, and his prowess with the bat has sent a few aspiring pitchers into the D.T.'s or something similar.

Mr. N. S. Kirk

This is the photograph that won the Staff photographer the pair of fur lined ear-rings, and was taken just as Kirk stepped over the home plate after stealing second and third. As the picture shows, Kirkie has his whole soul into the business of playing ball. His spectacular pegging from the outfield, his steady batting and his prowess as a "base stealer" has helped the team considerably. Note. Tootsie accompanied Kirkie from 3rd. home, but was not responsible for the run.

The Third Base

Mr. A. Holgerson,

Although the youngest member of the team, Andy showed throughout the season, that he is a regular man on the ball field. The above likeness was taken while he was waiting for an infield fly to drop from the heavens. Andys pegging to first was always a feature of the game, and we predict great things for him on the diamond in the future. His batting average is also pretty near the top.

THIS WOMAN'S RECOVERY

Shows Remarkable Restorative Power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chealey, Ont.—"Before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had terrible pains in my sides and was not regular. Finally I got so weak I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest half way up the steps. I tried two doctors but they did me no good. I saw your medicine advertised in the newspapers and thought I would give it a trial. I took four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and was restored to health. I am married, am the mother of two children, and do all my housework, milk eight cows, and do a hired man's work and enjoy the best of health. I also found Vegetable Compound a great help for my weak back before my babies were born. I recommend it to all my friends who are in need of medicine, and you may print this letter if you wish."—Mrs. HENRY JANKE, R. R. No. 4, Chealey, Ontario.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

An Artist's Luck

Won Valuable Prize When Ill and Without Funds.

Frank Schwarz, twenty years old, trying to make his living as an artist was notified by his landlord that he must leave his stuffy room in a tenement over a saloon in the East Side, New York, unless he paid his rent, $10 a month. On his way out he met the postman with a letter informing him that he had won the Prix de Rome, offered by the American Academy in the Eternal City. The prize gives him free transportation to Rome, free tuition in art, and an allowance of $1,000 a year for three years.

The vicissitudes of an artist's life could scarcely be better illustrated. His mother died in Chicago when he was twelve years old, and his father, who was a hotel waiter in that city, left the boy to shift for himself because he insisted upon studying at the Chicago Art Institute instead of going into business where he could make money. It is not known how he managed to struggle along in the interval, but letters found in the boy's apartment showed he was desperate for lack of money. After leaving the army, with which he served in France as a member of the Camouflage Section, he was stricken with pneumonia. He was unable to work. Doctors advised him to leave the city. He could not do so; he had no funds. Then came the notice, sent by the agent for the tenements. And then the prize.—Toronto Globe.

For Catarrh.—It is one of the chief recommendations of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil that it can be used internally with as much success as it can outwardly. Sufferers from catarrh will find that the Oil when used according to directions will give prompt relief. Many sufferers from this ailment have found relief in the Oil and have sent testimonials.

To Slaughter Buffalo

Said That One Thousand Animals at Wainwright Will be Disposed of by Government.

Owing to the increase in the buffalo herd at Wainwright, one thousand of these animals are to be slaughtered. A special building is being erected for the purpose. The buffalo meat will be sent to all points over the country for sale. A strict act is being kept of all heads and skins, which will probably be disposed of by the Dominion Government. The Wainwright reservation contains the last large herd of buffalo in the world, with about 3,000 animals.

Advantages of Irrigation

Taber System Will be Paid For In One Year By Increased Production.

Paying for an irrigation system in one year is the unique experience of the Taber project comprising 17,000 acres, just east of the irrigated area operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway. It cost sixteen dollars an acre to build the ditch and laterals and conservative estimates of the average yield on the 13,000 acres under crop are twenty bushels to the acre as against eight bushels on the dry land adjoining.

This is the first year that the Taber project has been in operation and farmers are naturally enthusiastic over its success. The many fields with thirty-five and forty bushel crops are, however, the most satisfactory evidence.

Patronizing Local Industry.

A profitable market for their product of sodium chloride is being developed by the Benlac Salt Company, which is engaged in developing the salt deposits at Senlac, Saskatchewan. A Calgary soap factory is utilizing the product extensively in its manufacture, instead of importing from Wisconsin as previously, and it is probable the wants of their Winnipeg branch will be supplied from the same source.

FREQUENT HEADACHES

A Sure Sign That The Blood Is Watery and Impure.

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than blooded persons, and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich, red blood made by these pills will remove the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by their blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer for lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are under-nourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition every symptom of the trouble will disappear. There are more people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than to any other medicine, and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Against Too Much Production.

Declaring that the present period of depression is due to the fact that workmen have produced too much, and that for this reason employers are requiring their workmen to "take a rest," Alexander Howat, President of the Kansas Miners' Union, advised the laborer not to "produce too much or you may produce yourself out of a job" in a speech at Kansta City recently before an audience of laborers.

MOTHERS!

WATCH YOUR TEETHING BABIES

THOUSANDS OF THEM DIE EVERY SUMMER

When the baby starts to cut its teeth, then is the time the poor mother is under the stress of great anxiety. The baby's body becomes loose, and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and many other bowel complaints manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, cankers form in the mouth, and in many cases the child wastes to a shadow, and very often the termination is fatal.

On the first indication of any looseness of the bowels, give a few doses of and thus, perhaps, save your baby's life. For the past 76 years "Dr. Fowler's" has been used by mothers for teething babies so you do not experiment with a new and untried remedy which might be dangerous to your darling's health.

Charming Frock Of Swiss and Organdie

By Marie Belmont.

Among the sheer fabrics that are greatly liked for the dainty summer dress are organdie and dotted Swiss. When they are combined most charming creations are achieved. The model illustrated is fashioned from white organdie and Swiss that shows pink, yellow and blue dots on a background of palest blue. The latter material is chosen for the deep yoke, which is bound with pipings of white organdie. The lower part of the waist is of organdie. The belt has an inset of the Swiss, while the lower part of the tunic is fashioned from the dotted material.

Praise For Lord Byng

London Daily Telegraph Prints Laudatory Article on New Governor-General.

In a laudatory article on Lord Byng of Vimy, Canada's new Governor-General, the London Daily Telegraph remarks that whatever differences there may be between him and his immediate predecessor, both he and the Duke of Devonshire might well be chosen as typical English gentlemen.

"The Dominions inheriting all that is good in our traditions," says the article, "without the material disadvantages of the old world, have perhaps an easier task than we all, but within the Empire we are all one people, and no Canadian will watch with more pride the prosperity and happiness of Canada under Lord Byng's governorship than the citizens of the Old Country."

WEEDS

I just made a hurried trip to the drouth stricken Districts of Alberta to study the effect on commercialized Weeds, and find the Sun Flowers, Sweet Clover, Alfalfa, Brome grass and other Revenue Producing weeds, are the green oasis in those desert wheat fields, where grasshoppers, gophers, weevil and sawflies have added to the destruction.

I came back satisfied that this District is better off than there, and can be made safer for the future, because grass can be made to grow here better than in the South. Rye can be raised here; but after Rye, wheat cannot be raised until some fibre is put back by grass roots; grass means keeping stock of all kinds, and silos for utilizing the weeds; also better fencing, as much of the stock seems to be a nuisance from lack of good fences. All of these things require capital, but capital does not necessarily mean money, it may be credit; credit is built up by creating Confidence; confidence is built up by business ability, saving, work, living up to your word, good judgement, honesty and engaging in a safe, sound undertaking. The Banking system of Canada was built to meet the needs of the Country as no other system in the world has been able to do, and yet insure safety; they have backed businesses and Farmers on pure confidence beyond the limit of good business. So today a business man has to build up a line of credit by promptness in meeting his obligations, which the Farmer does not always do.

On the credit of straight Wheat Farming this community has over reached its Security; The government, to aid those people who need new and additional credit, for a few cattle, sheep, hogs, better fencing, tame grass seed, silos better and more Poultry, and other new Revenue Producing enterprises has made laws to assist the Banks in credits for Farmers; the First was the "Cow Bill" giving $500. credit to each Farmer needing cattle, and should be taken advantage of at once, now, today, to buy up good cows and heifers now when they are cheap, and not let them go out of the country, cattle are sure to come back.

The government provides free Pure Bred Bulls to go with these cows.

Then for the other enterprises "The Farm Credit Association" provides a method of bunching the Communities credit, guaranteed by the government so that the Bank can loan the Association on better terms, to start these necessary side lines.

Every man, woman, or child should be in it, to the extent of their ability to manage an enterprise, be it $10 of credit. So those who would prepare for, and undertake, and take care of, cows for winter Dairying, a few sheep, pigs, turkeys, Geese, chickens for winter laying, seeding of tame grasses, a silo for next year, or any other revenue producing Farm enterprise as better seed, fencing etc should let me know by card, letter or otherwise, that we may organize one or more—The other Provinces are making a big success of it, why not this district?

I notice two hardy, native sand grasses, with creeping roots like Brome grass that seed should be saved from and put on the sandy, blown out spots.

Brome grass seed drilled in very late in the fall on light land should get such an early start that it would not blow out.

Barn yard manure should not be piled up, but put on a wagon or stone boat and hauled, as made, to top dress tame grass, or pasture or burnt out spots; it is wasting money to leave it in piles.

Don't forget to disk that stubble this fall.

The Church and Its Work

By The Rev. W. S. Wickenden

"The Gospel of Christ."

The word "gospel" means "glad tidings." The supreme object of the coming of Christ was to bring peace and joy to sinners by putting away their sin. The chief work of Christ's ministers is to proclaim His gospel, and the Lord promises to make His people joyful in His House of Prayer.

True joy is found in Christ alone, and where His people gather, He meets with them.

Beneficial Effects

Of School Fairs

School fairs are for the boys and girls of the land what the fairs are to adults. By this time they should be thoroughly organized; prize lists published and circulated and programmes of proceeds prepared, the two indeed given in one publication. These fairs increase in number every year and are proving of inestimable value in the agricultural education of the young and even in beneficially influencing the more mature. Of course boys' and girls' clubs are the principal feeders of the fairs, but entries are usually accepted from children who are not members of any such organization. Agricultural Representatives all testify to the splendid effect the fairs are having upon farm life and agricultural pursuits generally. One, for instance, writes "I do not know of any one thing which is a greater factor in improving the farm production and the farm industry of the country than the school fairs—In addition to bringing direct, practical results, school fairs have had a very effective influence in encouraging teachers to take up the teaching of agriculture in the public schools." Another says: "The importance of the school fair cannot be over-emphasized. It teaches our future farmers how they can take the most out of the soil. It makes our rural people better and happier." In recognition of the truth of the old adage "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" a programme of sports is usually included in the days list of proceedings.

An Irrigation Project

It has been proposed to irrigate a portion of Alberta and Saskatchewan from North Saskatchewan and Red Deer rivers. This project will be investigated this season and if it should be carried out, Sounding Lake will likely be used as a reservoir in connection with the irrigation system.
